

GLANCE /glaens, glans/
 noun - verb (used without object)
 1. to look quickly or briefly.
 2. to allude briefly to a topic or subject
 in passing.
 - verb (used with object)
 3. to cast a glance or brief look at
 4. to cast or reflect, as a gleam.

Global Glance

Issue 03

18/03/2009

Click on any of the headlines to go to the story:

- Alternative energy: Why can't you ignore "Green" investing?
- Man wouldn't care if local paper folded
- Nano to hit Europe by 2011, says Ratan Tata
- Liked the show? Maybe it was the commercials
- It was 20 years ago today: The Web
- About Face: People's credit worthiness, it seems, can be seen in their looks

Welcome to Global Glance. Our editorial team will be happy to hear from you with suggestions for items to include in future issues. Please contact Global Glance at global_glance@strath.ac.uk

Source: Jutia Group
Country: United States of America

Alternative Energy: Why can't you ignore "Green" investing?

This article is about green energy and gives four conditions that now exist that makes the alternative energy bubble ripe for a bubble that could burst and leave the unwary alternative energy investors in the lurch.

Read full text

Source: The Guardian
Country: United Kingdom

Will we miss our local newspapers if they close? Many Americans will not.

Is there any hope for the traditional newspaper in this internet age?

Read full text

Source: The Times of India
Country: India

Nano to hit Europe by 2011, says Ratan Tata

Over the past two years this small beauty has been in the news wherever it goes. Now on March 23rd its going to be among us.

Read full text

Source: The New York Times, Mind
Country: United States of America

Liked the show? Maybe it was the commercials

For years we have thought that TV commercials have distracted us in between our favourite programmes. Here is a study that proves the opposite, "researchers who study consumer behaviour argue that interrupting an experience, whether dreary or pleasant, can make it significantly more intense".

Read full text

Source: CNET
Country: United States of America

It was 20 years ago today: The Web

A flash down memory lane: Happy 20th Birthday to the Internet.

Read full text

Source: The Economist
Country: United States of America

About Face: People's creditworthiness, it seems, can be seen in their looks

Validating your trustworthiness through your appearance! Although it sounds highly implausible, recent research proves otherwise.

Read full text